

Watstock

FinTech startup which predicts stock market

About the project

Watstock™ is a FinTech startup with the idea to develop a trading platform that uses Artificial Intelligence, Deep Learning and LSTM (Long-Short Term Memory) to predict the stock market for up to 10 days with extremely high accuracy due to a proprietary Neural Network.

ELITEX used its strong Javascript and UI development expertise to build a couple of websites and data visualization components for Watstock.

Moreover, ELITEX has helped the customer to manage his remote mobile development team and improve the overall development process in the startup.
